LB 1064

SENATOR CLARK: Senator Higgins.

SENATOR HIGGINS: Thank you, Mr. President. Would Senator Howard Lamb please respond to a question?

SENATOR CLARK: Senator Lamb.

SENATOR LAMB: Yes.

SENATOR HIGGINS: Senator Lamb, is this a bill that would help the farmers?

SENATOR LAMB: Well, this would help the farmers from getting in trouble with each other basically, clarify the responsibility between the cattle owner, the cattle feeder, and the cattle feed supplier.

SENATOR HIGGINS: Thank you, Senator. Well, here I am a city gal asked to vote to help the farmers. They didn't do much for my city the other day but I have to represent all of the people of the State of Nebraska and I have to vote for what is right and not my own personal feelings so I will vote for Senator Lamb's amendment.

SENATOR CLARK: Senator DeCamp.

SENATOR DECAMP: Mr. President, I would first of all ask if this is germane at all? Anytime you start playing around with lien laws and double jeopardy, this whole thing, and you have nothing in the Journal and you are putting it on the last day with no notice to anybody, you are playing with fire. I have no idea of what that does and I would ask if it is even remotely germane?

SENATOR CLARK: Senator Lamb, do you want to talk on germaneness?

SENATOR LAMB: Well, I am sure it is germane because the whole bill has to do with the relationship between the feed supplier and it is designed by Alice Licht to protect the grain elevators and my concern here was that we didn't want to overprotect the grain elevators at the jeopardy of some
